Information Disclosure Statement

The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

(Note: the phrase "the present invention" is improper to use in an abstract.)

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: 42 and 56. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5 and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kundel. Kunkel teaches a cold table (Fig. 4) comprising: a table top assembly with inner and outer side and bottom walls (18a-d; 20) which form a cavity there between and a support leg assembly (34,36) hingedly attached to the table top assembly. At the center of the bottom wall is a drain (24); the bottom wall sloping toward the drain outlet (see Fig. 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kunkel in view of Kusz et al. As stated above, Kunkel teaches the limitations of claims 1 and 3-5 including a table assembly having side and bottom walls. For claims 6 and 7, Kunkel fails to teach arcuate sections between the side and bottom walls. Kusz teaches the concept of using arcuate sections between the side and bottom walls of a structure (Fig. 2) to help in draining water there from (also using a center drain). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the interconnection between the side and bottom walls of Kunkel by making it arcuate in cross section, such as is taught by Kusz, for the advantage stated above.

Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kunkel in view of Aldridge et al. As stated above, Kunkel teaches the limitations of claims 1 and 8-10 including a table having a folding leg assembly. The leg assembly further including keeper members (36) with each leg set. For claims 11 and 12, Kunkel fails to teach keeper members having first and second hinged arms with sleeve members there between. Aldridge teaches keeper members (36) with first and second hinged arms (46,52) and a sleeve member (56) there between. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the cold table of Kunkel by using alternate keeper members on the leg sets, i.e. using the keeper members of Aldridge thereon instead of the keeper members presently used, since these keeper members are functional equivalents and it appears that either type of member would work equally well in the leg sets of Kundel.
